

I cannot understand why the FCC, under federalism, does not allow a state to provide more stringent rules on a subject that there is both state and federal agreement of a problem and a solution. One of the most bothersome interferences in a person's privacy and right to quiet enjoyment is the torrent of telemarketers. Do not interfere with the efforts of the State of New Jersey to provide the most effective relief from telemarketers.